God's promises always come true, so we know that the dawn will always come. Hope for the future dispels despair. If we are not reading our Bibles we are not feeding our hope. If we are not feeding our hope, we are in danger of losing hope altogether, and slipping down into the same depths the Psalmist found himself in at the start.

from despair to hope in an instant I am going to tell you my (let's call it) secret history. It may not seem like much to you, but I assure you that for me, that I have lived it and live it daily, there is something strange in it, something that does not fit with the materialistic and logical vision of the things that reign in our days.

The shift statement we want to highlight this month is the shift from Despair to Hope. Some people think that hope means denial of the despair we can feel during hard times or when acting against oppression. They may even say hope is just a distraction that keeps us from actions that will combat the roots of injustice.

1. Combat fear with fear of the Lord. Paralyzing fear and fear of the Lord are two sides that compete for despair or hope, respectively. Satan uses fear to spiritually cripple us into avoiding suffering, resisting total trust in God, and detaching ourselves from self-

-pity.

In From Despair to Hope, Henry Cisneros and Lora Engdahl collaborate with public and private sector leaders who were on the scene in the early 1990s when the intolerable conditions in the nation's worst public housing projects and their devastating impact on inhabitants, neighborhoods, and cities called for drastic action. These eyewitnesses from the policymaking, housing development, and architecture fields reveal how a program conceived to address one specific problem revolutionized the ...
