The Nice Factor: The Art of Saying No. Jo Ellen Grzyb, Robin Chandler. Summersdale Publishers Limited, Mar 20, 2008 - Family & Relationships - 256 pages.

Nice people usually want to be liked by everyone; they are often afraid of offending others by asking directly for what they want and as a result can feel like a push over. They generally expect others to be as considerate as they are and can grow upset when this isn't the case, over time developing serious anger over the issue.

Some nice people live with inner rage, while outside a nice smile is perpetually glued in place. Being too nice can seriously affect your health, wealth and happiness. "The Nice Factor" shows you how to stand up for yourself and put your own needs first.
