The Thomson's do support WDS but, depending on firmware, it may only be configurable via the CLI using commands under:wireless wds to enable it and to scan for and manage neighbouring AP(s). The wireless setting would have to be set up identically as well, and you may have to disable DHCP on the 'slave' router. I've not tried this on a Thomson and have no idea how well it works. Note that ...

I've been following this conversation and I "think" this maybe the help I am looking for, but please help. I'm looking at using my Thomson TG585 v8 modem/router as just a modem and connecting it to a Linksys EA6500, do I need to set my Thomson up in bridge mode or just run a cable from it? I'm getting confused and confuddled!!!!
